Porsche in Zuffenhausen

Take a journey back in time.
Behind the wheel of a Porsche, of course.

This is a chance for you to explore the fascinating world of Porsche up close. Take a journey through the captivating history of the company at the Porsche Museum in Stuttgart. The dynamic nature of the marque is superbly demonstrated from the outside by the building's striking architecture.

The vehicles on display within the museum clearly reflect the values for which Porsche typically stands:

endurance, a sense of tradition and the spirit of innovation. But to really get to appreciate a Porsche sports car, you need to take to the driver's seat yourself. The second part of the day is therefore dedicated to a close confidante of the Porsche marque: the road. Discover the unforgettable feeling of driving a Porsche – through long stretches of glorious countryside, on meandering country roads and, of course, on the motorway.

Zuffenhausen – Schöntal Abbey – Zuffenhausen

Upon arrival in Stuttgart, your Porsche tour guide will greet you at the Porsche Museum in Zuffenhausen. Your journey through automotive history starts here, and you'll find no shortage of highlights. The exhibition features around 80 vehicles on display in a remarkable setting. In addition to famous icons such as the 356 or 550 Spyder, you'll also get to see some of our finest technological achievements from the early 20th century through to the present day. Afterwards, enjoy a guided tour of the factory where our sports cars are produced. This concludes the theoretical side of things.

After lunch, you collect your vehicle for the tour. Start the engine and set off towards Heilbronn and along the motorway to the Hohenlohe region, passing Jagsthausen and Götzenburg Castle, made famous by the Goethe play 'Götz von Berlichingen'. Stop off at Schöntal Abbey, before travelling along the edge of the Neckartal-Odenwald nature reserve and returning in the early evening to your starting point: the Porsche Museum in Stuttgart.

Porsche Day Tour of the Black Forest

Enjoy a host of specialities from the Black Forest.
In another German speciality: a Porsche.

The Romans called it the 'Silva Nigra' – the dark, black forest. An almost impenetrable region, both impressive and eerie. Today, the Black Forest is one of Germany's most popular holiday regions. Due to its varied countryside and, naturally, its wealth of local specialities. One of these is the roads.

The constant switching between deep valleys, high mountain paths and natural lakes makes for a route whose romantic appeal can scarcely be outdone. There's just one way to step up the feeling of exhilaration – that's at the wheel of a Porsche.

Your itinerary Ludwigsburg – Baiersbronn – Ludwigsburg

The tour begins with your arrival at Porsche AG in Ludwigsburg. After a brief introduction to your Porsche, you set off towards the Black Forest. You'll be impressed by the wealth of magnificent countryside, winding roads and sheer enjoyment as you drive along the Black Forest Ridgeway.

Lunch promises to be a sumptuous affair in the Köhlerstube restaurant at the acclaimed Traube Tonbach with a host of regional and international specialities – created for you by head chef Henry Oskar Fried. Afterwards, you set off through the gloriously scenic Black Forest on the return journey to Ludwigsburg.

Porsche Weekend: Leipzig/Dresden

Explore the conservation areas around Leipzig and Dresden. In another rare species.

The Saxon Switzerland region is famous for its extensive conservation areas which provide a habitat for a number of rare species. It's no wonder, therefore, that we were drawn to this part of Germany. With their historical buildings, the cities of Leipzig and Dresden also offer a fascinating insight into German history. What better way to explore them than in a fine example of German automotive history: a Porsche.

Day 1 Leipzig – Meißen – Dresden

Your tour begins in Leipzig – our second home, so to speak. The first attraction: a tour of our factory. Accompany the Panamera and Cayenne as they make their way through the production halls and on to their new habitat: the road. Then it's time for you to take to the wheel yourself.

You set off along the German Avenues Route and Saxon Wine Route through the charming Elbe valley to the 1,000-year-old town of Meißen, home to one of the world's most famous porcelain factories.

Stop for lunch before continuing along the River Elbe to Dresden. Relax in the extremely well appointed surroundings of the deluxe Hotel Taschenbergpalais Kempinski, which is steeped in tradition. From here, you can explore the city at your leisure. Relax along the picturesque banks of the Elbe or visit famous buildings such as the Frauenkirche (Church of Our Lady) or Zwinger Palace. Depending on the time of your visit, you may even have the opportunity to attend a cultural event at the Semper Opera House. If this is the case, you will have time to enjoy dinner before the performance. Otherwise, the evening is brought to a fitting conclusion with a sumptuous dinner in the stylish Alte Meister restaurant.

Day 2 Dresden – Elbe Sandstone Massif – Leipzig

Today, you set off on a very special drive towards the Elbe Sandstone Massif, an impressive landscape to the south-east of Dresden through which the River Elbe meanders. In addition to sheer cliffs, unspoilt vantage points and sleepy villages, it also features a number of bends, making it the ideal location for a Porsche driving experience.

Then it's time for you to enjoy another true culinary highlight. Have a leisurely lunch at Schloss Wackerbarth with spectacular views of the surrounding vineyards, before continuing along the motorway through the wine-growing area near Dresden. Savour every mile in a Porsche on the return journey to Leipzig.

Porsche Training/Weekend: Black Forest

How do you achieve maximum driving pleasure?
With the right warm-up training, of course.

Nothing beats a leisurely drive through the open countryside. Especially when the goal is clear: pure driving enjoyment – behind the wheel of a Porsche. All you need is the right technique, and that's exactly what you learn on a Warm-up training with the Porsche Sport Driving School. The course covers the basics of vehicle control, naturally under the guidance of our professional instructors, and with plenty of motoring pleasure along the way.

Afterwards, you get to put what you've learnt into practice straight away – on a tour of the magnificent Black Forest. Typical features include wide open plateaus, interspersed with narrow, often gorge-like valleys that were formed by glaciers more than 50 million years ago. The result is a region with incredible geographical diversity – and some of the most beautiful stretches of road in Germany. The perfect location for an unforgettable Porsche driving experience.

Day 1 Warm-up training at the LuK Driving Center – Baden-Baden

Arrival at the LuK Driving Center, followed immediately by a driver briefing. Porsche instructors are on hand to clearly explain the basic laws of physics relating to driving and vehicle handling. The aim is to provide a safe environment for simulating situations you may face in everyday traffic at realistic speeds.

Once the course is complete, you continue on to Baden-Baden – in a Porsche, of course. Here, you spend the night at the Dorint Maison Messmer. In the evening, you can relax over a sumptuous dinner in the hotel restaurant.

Day 2 Baden-Baden – Oberwolfach – Baden-Baden

After breakfast, it's time to set off in a Porsche through the spectacular Black Forest scenery. The numerous twists and turns along the way are guaranteed to delight. Just like the Porsche you are driving. Stop for lunch at the Landidyll Hotel Hirschen restaurant in Oberwolfach to savour a selection of international cuisine and regional specialities. Set off again through the Black Forest back to the LuK Driving Center, where this unforgettable tour comes to an end.

Porsche Weekend: Black Forest

Many love the Black Forest for its stunning vantage points. So do we. Plus every mile along the way.

The sharply angular peaks of the northern Black Forest tower majestically more than 1,000 metres above the Rhineland Plain. The scenery is simply breathtaking, and, with so many winding twists and turns in-between, it's undoubtedly worth the journey. This tour is ideal for those who enjoy travelling in sporting style – but also for gourmet food lovers. First class cuisine awaits you in opulent surroundings.

Day 1 Ludwigsburg – Bad Griesbach – Baden-Baden

Arrive in Ludwigsburg to collect your Porsche for the weekend. After a short briefing, you set off to tackle the first bends en route to the Black Forest. Stop off in Bad Griesbach where the first highlight of the tour awaits: lunch at the Relais & Châteaux Hotel Dollenberg featuring international cuisine and sophisticated regional dishes.

These culinary delights are followed by a typical Swabian speciality: the thrill of driving a sports car along the Black Forest Ridgeway towards Baden-Baden. On arrival at the Brenners Park-Hotel & Spa, you will be greeted with a reception. Later in the afternoon, you have some time to relax at the hotel spa. Afterwards, another highlight awaits you at the Park-Restaurant: a gourmet dinner prepared for you by Paul Stradner. Depending on the time of your visit, you may have the opportunity to attend an event at the famous festival theatre (Festspielhaus Baden-Baden).

Towering Alpine scenery meets peak performance on four wheels.

One of the most legendary sports centres in the Alps, the resort of Kitzbühel is linked in most people's minds with skiing. However, sport features here just as strongly in the summer months too. Motorsport, to be more precise. In a sophisticated setting that is appreciated by visitors from all over the world.

Against the magnificent backdrop of the region's peaks: Wilder Kaiser, Kitzbüheler Horn and Hahnenkamm. Offering a wealth of curves along the way, this location is perfectly suited for an unforgettable driving experience – in a Porsche.

In other words: perfectly suited to a Porsche. Stop at Lake Chiemsee for a lavish lunch before setting off for the Tyrol.

The demanding country roads leading through the foothills of the Alps provide the ideal opportunity for exploring the precision of your Porsche to the full. As evening draws in, you'll arrive at your destination for the night: the Kempinski Hotel Das Tirol. Over dinner, take the time to review the experiences of the day as you soak up the laid back atmosphere at this exclusive establishment.

Porsche Exclusive Tour

Take a journey back through six decades of sports car engineering. In just six days.

Exclusivity and sports appeal – the two are combined in this extraordinary tour. Starting at the very origins of the marque in a small design office in Gmünd and continuing on to Zuffenhausen and the Porsche Design Studio in Zell am See.

In short: an opportunity for you to discover the world of Porsche up close. In a way that could hardly be more authentic: behind the wheel of a Porsche Exclusive vehicle.

Day 1
Stuttgart

Individual arrival in Stuttgart and your destination for the first two nights of the tour: the Steigenberger Graf Zeppelin Hotel. In the evening, enjoy a welcome dinner and relax in preparation for the days ahead.

Day 2
Stuttgart

After breakfast, the first highlight of the tour awaits: a tour of the Porsche Exclusive manufacturing facility. Witness with your own eyes how even the most extraordinary customisation requests are turned into reality with meticulous handcraftsmanship. Enjoy lunch at the Christophorus Restaurant.

Afterwards, we take you on a guided tour of the Porsche Museum where state-of-the-art architecture meets timeless sports car design. With more than 80 vehicles on display, including icons such as the 356, 550, 911 and 917 as well as many special exhibits, it really brings the whole of Porsche history to life.

In the evening, relax over dinner at the hotel with a chance to review the experiences of the day.

Day 3
Stuttgart – Pfronten – Kitzbühel

The two previous days have been all about Porsche and its past. On this leg of the tour, you get to make history yourself as you set off from Stuttgart in selected Porsche Exclusive vehicles and head for the Alps.

Pass through Füssen with its medieval old quarter set between steep mountains and tranquil lakes, before continuing on to Pfronten. Stop for lunch at the Schlossanger Alp Restaurant, which stands at an altitude of 1,130 metres. Marvel at the spectacular panoramic views as you savour the hearty Allgäu cuisine prepared using fresh ingredients from the hotel's own garden.

Your next destination is Austria, or Kitzbühel to be more precise. Head along winding country roads in typical sporting style to this chic winter resort, where you will stay at the Grand SPA Resort A-ROSA Kitzbühel – one of the region's top luxury residences.

Day 4
Kitzbühel – Zell am See – Kitzbühel

After breakfast with the group, you set off in your selected Porsche on the journey to Zell am See where you visit the Porsche Design Studio. Since 1974 it has been responsible for producing exclusive objects renowned for their distinctive, timeless and purist design.

Then it's time to take to the wheel of a Porsche again and savour every mile on the return journey to your hotel in Kitzbühel.

Day 5

Kitzbühel – Gmünd – Lake Fuschlsee

The fifth day of the tour begins with a journey back in time. You set off over the Grossglockner to the tiny idyllic village of Gmünd – the place where the success story of Porsche began.

Highlights include a visit to the Pfeifhofer Museum – formerly the Porsche design office. These impressions will stay with you on your return journey to Salzburg, where you spend the night at the Schloss Fuschl Hotel in Hof on the shores of Lake Fuschlsee.

Day 6

Porsche Tour of Scotland

The perfect companion on a journey through the Scottish Highlands? There can be only one.

The Scottish Highlands have provided the impressive backdrop for many a big Hollywood blockbuster, the most famous of which is the legendary Highlander series. In real life too, they offer a movie-like setting with ancient castle ruins on the shores of deep blue lakes, endless lush valleys, jagged mountains, and an incredible coastline with hidden bays and tranquil fishing villages. All that's missing is the main character. One that exudes the same genuine sense of boundless freedom as the landscape itself. There can be only one to play this starring role: a Porsche – with you at the wheel.

Day 1
Edinburgh

Individual travel to Edinburgh Airport, where you will be greeted and taken to the five-star Balmoral Hotel. In the evening, relax over a welcome dinner in preparation for the days ahead.

Day 2
Edinburgh – Loch Lomond – Fort William

After breakfast, take to the wheel of your Porsche and set off for the West Highlands, passing plenty of moors on your way to the majestic Loch Lomond. Stop for lunch at Cameron House situated on the shores of Scotland's largest lake.

The tour continues along the edge of the lake, following the road as it carves its way upwards in long, sweeping curves. The ideal terrain for anyone driving a Porsche – and for increasing your endorphin levels. Close to Scotland's highest mountain, Ben Nevis, is your destination for the night: Inverlochy Castle Hotel. Scotland's finest luxury hotel, it is set in a fantastic location amidst the valleys, lakes and mountains of the West Highlands. The late afternoon is free to spend as you please – exploring this prestigious hotel, for example, or taking a trip to the lovely small town of Fort William. The pedestrian area here is perfect for discovering all that is typically Scottish.

Day 3
Fort William – Applecross – Achnasheen

Today, you can look forward to exploring perhaps the most beautiful, and certainly the most prominent road in Scotland, the A87. After around one hour, you arrive at your first destination: probably the best-known castle in Scotland, Eilean Donan. After a leisurely break, it's time for another highlight: the journey across the Bealach na Ba, the highest and most spectacular pass in Great Britain. This steep, single-track road with tight hairpin bends and breathtaking views of the mountains on the Isle of Skye promises one thing above all else: unadulterated driving pleasure. Break for lunch at the cosy Applecross Inn on the peninsula of the same name where freshly-caught seafood and genuine Scottish hospitality abound. Take to the wheel again for the drive along the coast to your hotel for the night: the luxury Torridon Hotel. Idyllically situated on the shores of a lake, this establishment was named Scottish Hotel of the Year in 2011.

Day 4
Achnasheen – Lochinver

On the fourth day, you set off once again along winding roads through the awe-inspiring scenery of the Highlands. Continue along Scotland's spectacular west coast until you reach the most northerly point of the tour: the Inver Lodge Hotel in Lochinver, situated in the heart of one of Europe's last remaining unspoilt wildernesses. A trip to the tiny village of Achmelvich is well worthwhile. If you're fortunate, you might even catch a glimpse of whales and dolphins in the bay.

Day 5

Lochinver – Tain – Nairn

Could there be anything more exhilarating than driving a Porsche through the incredible landscape of the Scottish Highlands? Possibly not. However, the country certainly has much more to offer than spectacular roads. In Tain you can take a guided tour of the Glenmorangie whisky distillery, responsible for producing one of the best Scottish single malts. After lunch, continue along the shores of the famous Loch Ness and on to your next port of call: the Boath House in Nairn. In the evening, round off an enjoyable day of driving and culture over dinner at the hotel's award-winning restaurant.

Day 6

Nairn – Ballater – Edinburgh

Set off on another unforgettable day, heading south along the Malt Whisky Trail through the Spey Valley. More than half of all Scottish malt whisky distilleries can be found here. Break for lunch before crossing the Cairnwell Pass.

Upon arrival at the Balmoral Hotel in Edinburgh, it's unfortunately time to hand back the keys to your Porsche. However, you will be left with a wealth of memories to cherish for years to come.

Day 7 Edinburgh

A leisurely breakfast followed by the return transfer to Edinburgh Airport for your individual departure time. If you wish to extend your stay with a golfing break, for example, we will be happy to help.

To make your journey more enjoyable, we will transport your luggage for you on this tour.

Day 1 Zagreb

Individual travel to Zagreb airport where you will be greeted and taken to the Regent Esplanade Zagreb. Built in 1925, this five-star hotel is located in the heart of the city and is considered one of its most famous and splendid buildings. Since its opening, it has always been at the centre of social life in Zagreb, playing host to many famous guests including presidents, politicians, film stars and musicians. In the evening, we invite you to enjoy the very first highlight of your tour: a welcome dinner at the Zinfandel Restaurant – one of the finest dining establishments in Croatia.

Day 2 Zagreb – Opatija – Rovinj

Straight after breakfast, it's time to take to the wheel of a Porsche to experience pure, unadulterated driving pleasure. Set off along the motorway to Karlovac, before continuing into the mountainous region of Gorski kotar where the route is lined with spruce and beech forests, tranquil lakes and raging rivers. Follow the winding mountain roads until you reach the chic seaside resort of Opatija, also called the 'Nice of the Adriatic'. Stop off for lunch at the evanda gourmet restaurant, sitting on a terrace right by the sea. Afterwards, you head south along the coast to Rovinj. Croatia's most romantic city, it has earned itself the nickname 'Pearl of the Adriatic'. Spend the night at the five-star boutique hotel, Monte Mulini. Offering sophisticated design and an extraordinary ambience, the hotel is situated right by the crystal blue sea in a picturesque bay.

On the boat trip over to the island of St. Andrews for dinner at the Lanterna Restaurant, you can enjoy magnificent views of the Rovinj archipelago. The breathtaking display of colour in the skies at dusk creates a magical backdrop.

Day 3 Rovinj – Livade – Rovinj

Today, you set off in your Porsche to explore Istria's lush hinterland, an area of countryside that strongly resembles that of Tuscany. The region is renowned, in particular, for specialities such as wine, olive oil and truffles. And one more thing: winding mountain roads, parts of which are used for rally racing. Drive through the Istrian hills to the world's smallest town, Hum. There has been no new construction within the town's original fortifications since the 11th century.

The tour then continues on to Livade where you can savour a selection of truffle dishes at the famous Zigante Restaurant. Since the world's largest truffle weighing 1.3 kg was discovered here by Mr. Zigante, Livade has become an international centre for this culinary delicacy. Afterwards, the route takes you along narrow serpentine roads, past vineyards and olive groves, to the Kabola winery. From here, you can marvel at incredible panoramic views of the Alps, the Dolomites and the ocean. Enjoy an olive oil tasting before heading back to the coast for Rovinj. Dinner is served at the hotel's elegant restaurant, which provides a stylish setting in which to review your experiences of the day.

Day 4

Rovinj – Selce

In the morning, you set off on narrow country roads to the east coast. The subsequent journey along the coastal road is a real treat for any Porsche enthusiast. From the steep cliffs you can enjoy breathtaking views of the turquoise water of the Adriatic. Continue on through Opatija to Selce. Your destination for the night is right by the sea: the five-star Amabilis Hotel, which opened in 2012.

Day 5

Selce – Plitvice – Zagreb

Today, it's time to say farewell. Not from your Porsche, fortunately, but from the coast. You then set off through the hilly countryside, arriving around lunchtime at the Plitvice Lakes National Park with its glistening turquoise waters, raging rapids and spectacular waterfalls. You'll also discover an endless wealth of flora and fauna. This true natural paradise consists of 16 lakes, large and small, connected by waterfalls. The park has provided the setting for several Winnetou films and has been designated a UNESCO World Natural Heritage site.

After lunch, the tour continues through the mountains to the motorway which takes you back to Zagreb and your hotel for the final night, the Regent Esplanade.

Day 6

Zagreb

Sadly, it really is now time to bid a final farewell to your Porsche. Breakfast at the hotel followed by transfer to the airport for your individual departure time.

In another German classic.

Tuscany is well-known for its southern flair and inimitable Italian charm. The most popular spots are Maremma in the south, the Chianti region between Florence and Siena, and the Etruscan Riviera. Typical features include hilly landscapes with pines, cypresses, olive groves and vineyards, which were laid out and cultivated by the Etruscans and Romans. The Mediterranean vegetation extends as far as the 140 km coast with its magnificent fine sandy beaches. Tuscany is also an important centre for gourmets and culture lovers. You can follow in the tracks of Goethe in Italy, for instance; in a modern day German classic – a Porsche.

Porsche Tour of Barcelona/the Pyrenees

There are many stories about the Pyrenees.
But each curve also has its very own tale to tell.

The Pyrenees stretch for around 430 km from the Bay of Biscay on the Atlantic coast in the west to the Cap de Creus on the Mediterranean in the east. With their numerous forests, waterfalls and mountain lakes, they form a natural border between France and Spain.

But it is certainly not an impassable one. Steep mountain roads, long-stretching serpentines and tight bends snake their way through the entire mountain range, making it perfect for an exhilarating driving experience – behind the wheel of a Porsche.

Day 1

Barcelona

Individual arrival at Barcelona Airport, where you will be greeted and driven by limousine to your destination for the night: the five-star Hotel Arts Barcelona. Modern architecture and views from your room over the marina, beach and buzzing city are just some of the incredible features that this first-class hotel has to offer. In the evening, relax over a welcome dinner at the hotel restaurant in preparation for the days ahead.

Day 2

Barcelona – Vic – Puigcerdà

Today's itinerary can be easily summed up in a few words: driving a Porsche. Straight after breakfast, you complete a short stretch on the motorway before setting off along the spectacular coastal road, heading north-west towards the Pyrenees. Stop for lunch at the Mas Vinyals Restaurant, a typical Catalan farmhouse with a history stretching back over several centuries. The tour then continues through Ripoll, Ribes de Freser and the mountains to Puigcerdà and your next port of call: the five-star Villa Paulita. In the evening, relax over dinner at the hotel's gourmet restaurant and enjoy the magnificent views of the lake.

Day 3

Puigcerdà – Tremp – Boltaña

The route on the third day is a true delight for any sports car enthusiast. The roads get narrower, the bends tighter and the straights shorter. The ideal conditions, therefore, for unlimited driving pleasure at the wheel of a Porsche. Towards lunchtime, you will pass by several magnificent mountain lakes before arriving at your destination for the night: the five-star Barceló Monasterio de Boltaña Hotel set in a 17th century monastery.

Day 4

Boltaña – Col du Tourmalet – Baqueira

Today's leg of the tour focuses on three things: curves, curves and more curves. There are also plenty of spectacular views to enjoy along the way, as you cross the French border and head for Lourdes. Break for lunch at a quaint little country house before setting off along the 2,115-metre-high Col du Tourmalet. This is the highest mountain pass in the French Pyrenees and – for any cycling fans among you – the most frequently crossed pass in the Tour de France. The route continues back over the border into Spain. After a long day of intensive driving, you can relax at the Casa Irene Hotel in Arties.

Day 5

Baqueira – Peramola – Barcelona

On the final day, you get to experience the unforgettable feeling of driving a Porsche once more. Follow the winding mountain roads to Peramola, stopping for lunch at the Can Boix Restaurant. Marvel one more time at the spectacular views of the Pyrenees, before setting off on the final leg back to Barcelona where you spend your last night at the Hotel Arts Barcelona.

Day 6

Barcelona

Breakfast at the hotel followed by transfer to the airport by limousine for your individual departure time, taking with you a wealth of lasting memories.

If you are not yet ready to bid farewell to the buzzing city of Barcelona and would like to extend your stay, we will be happy to help.

Porsche Tour of Andalusia

A fling with flamenco.
Combined with a passion for Porsche.

Andalusia is one of the most sought after destinations in the world due to its mild climate, Mediterranean vegetation and the beautiful sandy beaches along its magnificent shoreline. It also boasts impressive mountain scenery and picturesque villages that give you a genuine sense of the Spanish culture and way of life. But the best thing about this region is the never-ending mountain roads, and the twists and turns in-between. The ideal place to spend a few exhilarating days behind the wheel of a Porsche.

What awaits you is driving pleasure galore, as you pass almond trees, olive groves and cactus fields. In addition to the scenic attractions, there are also plenty of places to visit and explore away from the main roads: typical white villages (pueblos blancos), for instance, and historical cities such as Seville and Córdoba with their fantastic fusion of Moorish and Spanish culture. You'll also visit the Alhambra, a World Cultural Heritage site since 1984.

Day 1

Málaga – Casares

Individual travel to Málaga Airport where you will be greeted and driven by limousine to the Finca Cortesin Hotel, Golf & Spa. Opened in 2008, it offers a breathtaking range of facilities, setting a new benchmark in Spain's luxury hotel sector. Wind down at the hotel spa or simply sit back and enjoy the magnificent views of the Costa del Sol stretching as far as Gibraltar. In the evening, relax over a sumptuous dinner in preparation for the day ahead.

Day 2

Casares – Granada

Your first day in a Porsche takes you from the Costa del Sol heading east. You then pass through the Torrox hills towards the hinterland. What awaits you there is plenty of enjoyment at the wheel, of course. The winding mountain roads provide the ideal opportunity to explore the driving dynamics of your Porsche. Stop for lunch at a small Spanish restaurant – in fine weather you can enjoy spectacular panoramic views of the valley below from the terrace.

Featuring numerous twists and turns, the route then takes you to the well-known city of Granada. The Hospes Palacio de los Patos Hotel combines both modern and traditional elements. In the evening, you can relax and share your experiences over dinner at a restaurant close to the hotel.

Day 3

Granada – Córdoba

The following day starts off straight away with a highlight – the opportunity to drive your Porsche to the site of the famous Alhambra. On a guided tour of the gardens and Nasrid palaces, you will learn all about the history and features of this impressive ensemble. After stopping off for a typical regional lunch close to the Alhambra, it's time to visit another Andalusian highlight: Córdoba. Spend the night at the modern AC Hotel Córdoba Palacio.

In the evening, take a stroll past the famous Mezquita, before relaxing over dinner at one of the patios for which Córdoba is renowned. Afterwards, you can enjoy a leisurely walk back to the hotel or experience the hustle and bustle of the city at night.

Day 4

Córdoba – Seville

Spend the morning sightseeing with a guided tour of the Mezquita. The dimensions of this impressive building are enormous: covering more than 24,000 m², it comprises 856 ornate pillars and reflects Córdoba's long and colourful history.

After lunch, you set off again in your Porsche heading southwest. Later in the afternoon, you arrive in the Andalusian capital Seville where you check in at the extensively refurbished Alfonso XIII Hotel. Situated in the heart of the city, the hotel reflects Spain's Arabic heritage in its architecture and design. Since 1928, it has been a characteristic feature of the city and a symbol of the Moorish influence on the region. The outdoor pool and gardens are the perfect place to relax and take a refreshing dip in the warm Andalusian sunshine.

Day 5

Seville – Ronda – Seville

Today's leg of the tour offers further enjoyment at the wheel as you set off on the drive along a number of twists and turns to the spectacular Sierra de Grazalema Natural Park. The numerous, smaller mountain ranges on your way to Ronda with their ever-changing scenery and stretches of road are perfect for a Porsche driving experience. They also afford stunning views of attractions such as the Rock of Gibraltar.

Ronda is renowned as the home of Spain's oldest bullfighting ring and for its extraordinary position: the Moorish-style old quarter lies on a rocky plateau that plunges steeply on all sides and is separated from the more modern part of the town by an approximately 100 metre deep gorge. Stop for lunch nearby before setting off through the Sierra de Grazalema back to Seville. You then have the option of spending the rest of the evening watching a wonderful flamenco show.

Day 6

Seville – Casares

In the morning, you have the option of taking a stroll around the city of Seville. Some of its most famous buildings include the imposing cathedral, the Giralda – an impressive tower that stands 97.5 metres high and dates back to the 12th century and, not least, the Alcazar Palace. Built in 913, it was used as a fortified residence by a number of royal families. You'll then drive along the extremely winding country roads up to an altitude of 1,200 metres. After lunch, the route continues through the typical white villages, passing well-known places such as Casares and Gaucín. These have attracted a number of international artists because of their special light, warm colours and hills sloping gently down to the sea.

Day 7

Casares – Málaga

A leisurely breakfast at the hotel, followed by the transfer to Málaga Airport by limousine for individual departure. As you bid farewell to the south of Spain, you'll take with you a wealth of marvellous memories that you will treasure for a long time to come.

Naturally, you can choose to extend your stay at the Finca Cortesin Hotel or arrive at the hotel earlier.

Porsche Sport Driving School – Our Philosophy

At our school there's a strict seating plan: front left.

We believe that the best way to learn the theory is in practice. That's why, at the Porsche Sport Driving School, it's all about taking to the driver's seat right from the very first moment.

The ultimate goal is to improve your driving skills on an ongoing basis, enabling you to drive more safely in hazardous situations and, of course, enhance your enjoyment – behind the wheel of a Porsche.

We offer training on a number of racetracks in various countries around the world, all of which comply with the same high standards. This gives you the advantage of being able to choose between the training courses provided by the respective Porsche Sport Driving Schools at any time.

The overriding principle: learning by doing. We believe that this is the key to success – from the important basics to almost professional driving skills. Whether you do this on tarmac or on snow and ice is entirely up to you.

All of our courses are clearly structured and build on knowledge from the previous level. In our Precision, Performance and Master courses, you can finely hone your driving style step by step. Often our instructors have worked for Porsche and have been involved in racing for many years. This means they can provide you with the support you need as well as professional tips and advice.

In addition, our programme also includes some special courses. The g-Force Training, for example, deals with topics such as controlled drift, while our Classic Cars training takes you back to the very origins of driving a Porsche. If you want to practise driving a high-performance vehicle on the track, our Super Sport training is perfect for you. We also have a driver training course designed exclusively for women.

You can either complete the training in your own vehicle, regardless of its make, or in one of the Porsche training vehicles available for hire. You can also choose which venue you wish to attend for one of our courses – a famous international racetrack, one of our dedicated safety driving centres and circuits or on snow and ice.

In terms of the level of local support too, we do our utmost to ensure that you enjoy the same high standards wherever you are in the world. After all, we want you to have an unforgettable experience even when you are away from the wheel.

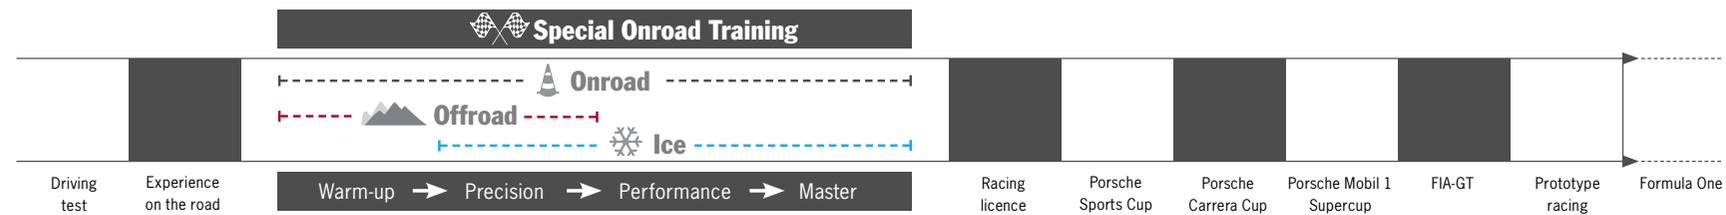

In short: practising has never been so enjoyable, as you complete lap after lap and experience real-life scenarios out on the track – or on other challenging surfaces. The focus is always on your goal and how to achieve it.

Here is a brief insight into the training provided by the Porsche Sport Driving School. More detailed information can be found in the Porsche Sport Driving School catalogue, online at www.porsche.com/sportdrivingschool or from tel. +49 (0)711 911-23364.

Training Offer – An Overview

A racing driver's life is full of twists and turns.
But we think it's a challenge you'll relish.

Porsche Sport Driving School offers a vast range of training to suit all levels and requirements. All you have to do is decide which is the right one for you.

[1] Onroad training levels.

Improve your driving skills with our Warm-up, Precision, Performance or Master training courses. Each of these levels builds on what has already been learned, starting with the basics of dynamic driving through to professional racing skills.

[2] Special onroad training.

Some aspects of our special onroad training courses present particular challenges for the participants in terms of their existing knowledge and the vehicles themselves. In addition, the training content largely focuses on specific areas. In other words: our special onroad training courses are the ideal way for you to express your passion for performance driving.

[3] Offroad training levels.

We can teach you how to drive more safely, even when you go off the beaten track. At Porsche Leipzig, for example, you have the option of completing a course on the dedicated off-road circuit with an instructor in a Porsche Cayenne training vehicle.

[4] Ice training levels.

Precision, Performance, Master. Naturally, you can also complete these individual training levels as part of our winter training programme. It's the ideal way to improve your driving skills, step by step, under some of the most extreme climatic conditions. On snow or ice. In Finland, for example. Our professional instructors are on hand to offer guidance and, of course, there's plenty of enjoyment at the wheel along the way.

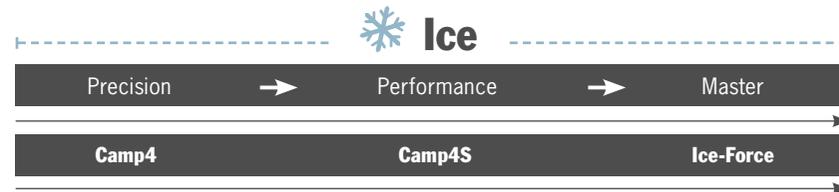

Porsche Driving Experience Winter

Many people associate snow and ice with winter sports. The Porsche Driving Experience is no exception.

Ice training levels.

If winter sports is your passion, why not try manoeuvring a Porsche on snow and ice? Our winter training courses – Precision Ice, Performance Ice and Master Ice – present the perfect opportunity. With these individual training levels, you can learn how to drive safely and control your vehicle under some of the most extreme climatic conditions. Our professional instructors are on hand to offer guidance at all times and, of course, the fun side of driving is not forgotten either.

Overview of training levels

Camp4.

Precision Ice training.

In the theory sessions you learn the basics of driving safety and dynamics, while the practical sessions prepare you for handling your vehicle in wintry conditions. You learn effective braking, changing direction and hill starts on low-traction surfaces.

The training location: Finland. The perfect setting with its endless pine forests, lakeland scenery and dog sleds. Camp4 courses are held at the Arctic Driving Center in Rovaniemi. In-between the individual sections, we also have a few special adventures in store for you: a ride on a snowmobile, for example.

Camp4S.

Performance Ice training.

Once you have mastered the Precision training, you can take part in an intensive Performance course at Camp4S in Ivalo. The Porsche Experience Center Finland on Lake Pajasjärvi near Ivalo provides the ideal setting for further improving your driving skills.

With 4-mm spikes on each tyre, you'll learn how to control a Porsche on treacherous black ice and snow and in some of the most demanding situations. Of course, there also has to be an element of fun. Under professional guidance, you learn a variety of special drift techniques and practise these on handling courses that stretch for miles.

Ice-Force.

Master Ice training.

Once you have completed the Performance training, you'll be ready for your next challenge. On our 'Ice-Force' training (Master level) in the north of Finland, instructors will teach you how to find and follow the racing line on an ice-covered circuit. With up to 420 spikes measuring 5 mm in length on each winter tyre, you'll experience incredible lateral acceleration on ice and snow. The facility's extremely spacious handling course offers plenty of scope for long drifts as well as the height of driving pleasure.

Porsche Driving Experience Partners

A basic Porsche principle:
maximum performance can only be achieved as a team.

Michelin

Porsche and Michelin look back on a long-standing and successful partnership. Through its pioneering developments in the field of high-performance tyres, Michelin is contributing to Porsche being able to meet its customer requirements.

Every Porsche is guaranteed to have superb handling characteristics. This is due in no small part to the fact that specific tyres are manufactured for each individual model. The main link between the car and the road, the tyre is designed at an early stage in the vehicle development process.

Michelin currently supplies racing tyres for the 911 GT3 Cup cars competing in the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup and the international Porsche Carrera Cup series, the 911 GT3 RSR and 911 GT3 R racing in various national and international GT championships, as well as the Porsche sports cars used in the Porsche Sports Cup Deutschland. Porsche trusts in the quality of MICHELIN tyres, both on road and track.

Porsche and Mobil 1 stand for innovative developments, high quality engineering and advanced technology. The partnership between both companies was formed in 1996 and has culminated in a number of impressive wins on the racetrack, demonstrating the performance and protection that Mobil 1 provides.

For Mobil 1, the racetrack is an ideal environment for developing and testing its new technologies. All the 911 GT3 Cup cars competing in the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup and the international Porsche Carrera Cup series, as well as all other Porsche racecars, use the very latest Mobil 1 based on the innovative Mobil SHC synthesis technology. Furthermore, every single Porsche is filled with Mobil 1 at manufacture.

Terms and Conditions of the Porsche Travel Club

The tour operator and your contractual partner shall be exclusively airtours – a TUI Deutschland GmbH brand. Pursuant to an agreement with Dr. Ing. h.c. F. Porsche AG, airtours – a TUI Deutschland GmbH brand – shall be entitled to provide certain travel services under the name Porsche Travel Club. Your registration does not constitute a contractual relationship between yourself and Dr. Ing. h.c. F. Porsche AG.

Dear Guest,
The tour operator airtours – a TUI Deutschland GmbH brand (hereafter referred to as ‘Tour Operator’) is working in conjunction with Porsche (operating under the name Porsche Travel Club) to provide the experience holidays described in the catalogue. Please read these terms and conditions carefully, as by making a booking you agree to accept them. They will be sent to you before you make your booking. They apply to all the holidays offered by the Porsche Travel Club, plus the additional services (e. g. green fees) that you book through the tour representative at your destination (see sections 12–14). These terms and conditions supplement articles 651a–m of the BGB (Bürgerliches Gesetzbuch – German Civil Code) and articles 4–11 BGB-InfoV (Ordinance on the Requirement to Provide Information and Supporting Documents in Civil Law).

1. Booking, confirmation

1.1 With your booking you are agreeing to enter a binding travel contract with the Tour Operator. The travel contract is binding on the Tour Operator once he has confirmed booking and price of the holiday in writing.

1.2 Your booking is for you as well as for all the people travelling with you. You are answerable for your obligations in respect of this contract as well as for those of the people travelling with you, provided you have accepted specific responsibility by signing a separate declaration.

1.3 You will receive written confirmation at the time of or directly after concluding the contract (sub-section 1.1 clause 2). The confirmation in writing will contain all important details and information on the holiday services you have booked. If the confirmation differs from your application, the operator is bound by the new offer for 10 days. The holiday contract comes into effect on the basis of the new offer if you accept the new offer within the 10-day deadline.

1.4 Advance reservations are provisional bookings for holidays not yet advertised. The Tour Operator turns them into firm bookings as soon as the brochure for the relevant season and the requested holiday are made generally available.

1.5 If you only book an additional service (e. g. green fees, admission ticket) from a third party provider without any travel arrangements, the Tour Operator is only acting as agent for the third party. The purchase of the mediated service(s) means you are entering into a contractual arrangement with the respective provider. The name of the provider in question is on the voucher that you will receive.

2. Payment

2.1 To safeguard the monies paid by customers the Tour Operator has taken out insolvency insurance cover with the German Reisepreis Sicherungsverein VVaG (DRS). You will find an insolvency insurance certificate on the confirmation.

2.2 After conclusion of the agreement, a deposit of 25% of the total price becomes due when you receive the confirmation. The balance must be paid 30 days before the departure date (see sub-sections 2.3 and 2.5.3). No reminders will be sent. Different cancellation conditions shall apply to the tour price:

Camp4/Camp4S/ Ice-Force/Ice-Force S

25% deposit, balance 2 months before departure.

2.3 The balance becomes due once it has been confirmed that your holiday is available as booked and the travel documents are either waiting for you at the travel agency or have been sent to you as agreed.

2.4 The amounts for the deposit and balance and any applicable cancellation charge in the case of cancellation are shown in the confirmation. The charges in the event of cancellation (cf. section 7), change to booking or handling fees (cf. section 8) as well as charges for customised holiday arrangements (cf. sub-section 3.4) are payable immediately.

2.5 Paying the Tour Operator
2.5.1 Payments to the account of the Porsche Travel Club can only be made in euros. In the case of direct debiting the Tour Operator will need details of your bank account, your address or, if appropriate, the address for sending the travel documents as well as your written authorisation to charge your account.

2.5.2 You may also pay for your holiday by credit card. In this case you will be asked to provide your credit card details on a separate form when booking. The Tour Operator will also need your address or, where relevant, the address of the person who will be receiving the documents, as well as your authorisation to charge your current account via the credit card. Please note that the TUI Card/TUI Card Gold cannot be used when making bookings with the Porsche Travel Club.

2.5.3 As a rule the deposit is debited within a week after concluding the contract and the balance 30 days before the departure date but not, in the latter case, before the conditions set out in sub-section 2.3 have been met.

2.6 [...]*

2.7 Changes to the agreed method of payment can only be made up to 35 days before start of the holiday.

2.8 If you have not received your travel documents at the latest 4 days before your departure date, please contact the Porsche Travel Club immediately. In the case of short notice bookings made within 7 days of the departure date, how you receive your travel documents will be agreed with the Service Team of the Porsche Travel Club. In your own interest we ask you to check your travel documents carefully.

2.9 If payments that are due are not paid or not fully paid and you do not pay even after receiving a reminder with payment deadline, the Tour Operator can cancel the contract except in the case that a serious deficiency to the holiday has already become apparent. In the event of cancellation of the travel contract in the context of the sentence above, the Tour Operator can demand payment of cancellation charges as compensation in line with sub-sections 7.2 and 7.5. If you do not effect payments despite being in arrears, the Tour Operator reserves the right to charge a fixed dunning cost fee of €10 for the second reminder. Your right to prove that substantially lower or no costs were incurred remains unaffected.

2.10 Costs for additional services, such as visa applications, etc., are not included in the holiday price unless expressly itemised in the brochure write-up. If such costs are incurred, they will be invoiced separately.

3. What you get and the price of your holiday

3.1 The contractually agreed travel services are found in the documentation (e. g. brochure, flyer, internet). The relevant details are found in the confirmation (cf. sub-section 1.1 clause 2). Before the contract is concluded the Tour Operator can modify the descriptions of holiday services at any time. Of course the traveller will be informed accordingly before making the booking.

3.2 Air carrier for the flight/EU Blacklist
The Tour Operator is obliged in line with EU Regulation 2111/2005 of 14.12.2005 to inform you of the identity of the air carrier(s) for the flight(s). If the air carrier has not yet been conclusively established at the time of the booking, you will be informed as to the air carrier that will probably perform the flight. As soon as the identity has been conclusively established, you will be informed accordingly. In the event that a change occurs to the air carrier performing the flight after the booking has been made, you will be informed accordingly as soon as possible. The list of air carriers subject to an operating ban within the EU (EU Blacklist) can be found at www.lba.de.

3.3 Flights
The flights will be with scheduled airlines. Travellers will be carried in economy class; a transfer to First Class or Business Class is possible on payment of the appropriate supplement. Transportation is provided on the basis of the terms and conditions of transport of the respective transport provider. These can be furnished if so requested. We strongly recommend that money, valuables, technical equipment and medication be carried exclusively in your hand baggage.
3.4 Special requests, customised holidays
3.4.1 The Porsche Travel Club may only accept the handling of special requests if they declare them to be non-binding. The Tour Operator will do his best to accommodate the request for special arrangements that are not described in the write-up, e.g. neighbouring rooms or rooms in a certain location or setting.
3.4.2 [...]*

3.4.3 Porsche Travel Club à la carte service
In addition to the services described in the write-up, the Porsche Travel Club will be happy to cater to your personal travel requests (à la carte service). We offer the à la carte service for selected destinations starting from a minimum price of €1,000 per person (for the additional services). In addition, starting from a total price of €5,000 per booking, you are entitled to use the à la carte service for bookings already made. For this we charge a service fee of €150 per booking. The service fee is per person and is added to the price of holidays costing more than €5,000. It is not refunded in the event that a booking is not made. This à la carte service refers to all travel components that do not conform to the description of travel services according to the brochure.

3.4.4 If travellers already at the destination request changes to flight or hotel arrangements, the Tour Operator reserves the right to charge a €50 handling fee per person in addition to the extra costs that may arise.

3.5 [...]*

3.6 Prolong the holiday stay

If you would like to prolong your holiday stay, please inform the travel representative or the Porsche Travel Club team as soon as possible. We are only too happy to extend your stay if the relevant accommodation and return transport options are available. The costs for extending the stay are payable at the destination. Please have a close look at the applicable rates and conditions for your return transport as well as the period of validity of your travel insurance and any possible visa requirements.

3.7 Travel representative services, support and assistance

For the holidays on offer you will be looked after at the destination by travel representatives of the Porsche Travel Club. Please consult the travel documentation for details, addresses and phone numbers. In the event of complaints, please refer to the special notes in sub-section 13.7.2.

4. [...]*

5. [...]*

6. Changes to travel services and prices

6.1 Any changes in or deviations from individual holiday services specified in the original travel contract that may become necessary after conclusion of the contract and are not due to actions on the part of the Tour Operator involving a breach of good faith are permissible only to the extent that they are of minor significance and do not impair the overall nature of the holiday booked. Flight times are as shown on the flight ticket. For reasons related, for instance, to air traffic congestion occasional delays or postponements to flights as well as route changes cannot be ruled out. Weather conditions may sometimes mean that the route specified in the schedule cannot be flown. The customer will be notified of any diversions by the local travel representative.

6.2 Any warranty claims remain unaffected, especially as far as the changed services are subject to defects. The Tour Operator undertakes to inform the customer immediately concerning changes in or deviations from holiday services. If appropriate, the Tour Operator will offer the customer the opportunity of rebooking or cancelling the contract free of charge. If a changed flight also involves a change in the airport, any Rail & Fly ticket in your holiday documents is still valid.

6.3 [...]*

6.4 After conclusion of the holiday contract, if there is a hike in transport costs or duties levied for certain services, such as port or airport taxes, the Tour Operator reserves the right to change the holiday price agreed on in the contract on the basis below:

6.4.1 If transport costs, in particular, fuel costs, rise above the costs at the time of concluding the contract, the Tour Operator can increase the price of the trip according to the following formula:

a) In the case of cost increases charged to the Tour Operator on a seat basis, the Tour Operator can charge the traveller the relevant increase.

b) In other cases the additional transport costs charged by the transport provider per means of transport are divided by the number of seats for the contractual means of transport. The Tour Operator can charge the traveller the resultant increase per seat.

6.4.2 If charges or levies, such as port or airport taxes, that the Tour Operator has to pay are increased above the costs at the time of concluding the travel contract, the price of the holiday can be increased by the corresponding pro-rata amount.

6.4.3 Charging increased costs in accordance with sub-sections 6.4.1 and 6.4.2 is only permitted if the interval between conclusion of the holiday contract and the agreed travel date is more than 4 months and the circumstances leading to the increase had not occurred nor could be foreseen before the contract was concluded.

6.4.4 In the case of a retrospective change of the price of the holiday, the Tour Operator shall inform the traveller immediately. Price increases within the last 20 days before start of the holiday are not permitted. In the case of price increases of more than 5%, the traveller is entitled to cancel the contract free of charge or request transfer to another holiday that is at least the equivalent of the holiday in question on the condition that the Tour Operator is able to offer such a holiday to the traveller at no extra cost from his programme. The mutual rights and duties referred to in this clause also apply in the case of permitted change to a main holiday service or component.

6.4.5 The traveller shall assert his rights against the Tour Operator immediately after being notified by the Tour Operator about the price increases and/or the change to the holiday service.

7. Cancellation by traveller before the start of the holiday/cancellation charges

7.1 You can cancel your holiday at any time prior to travelling. The date of receipt by the Tour Operator of the notice of cancellation is definitive (see section 17 below for the relevant address). We recommend that you submit your cancellation in writing.

7.2 If you cancel your holiday or fail to undertake the holiday, the Tour Operator loses the entitlement to the holiday price. Instead, the Tour Operator, as long as he is not responsible for the cancellation or the failure to undertake the tour and a case of force majeure does not exist, can demand reasonable compensation depending on the actual holiday price for making the travel arrangements and his costs and time spent (cancellation charges). The scaled, flatrate cancellation charges as itemised in sub-section 7.5 are worked out on a pro-rata basis according to the proximity of the date of cancellation to the date of the contractually agreed start of the holiday taking due account of normally saved expenditures and customary possible alternative use of the unused holiday services and components.

7.3 Cancellation charges are also due if a traveller does not appear punctually (no-show) at the times specified in the travel documentation at the relevant airport or place of departure or if the holiday cannot be commenced for failure to possess the relevant travel documents such as valid passport or necessary visa for a reason the Tour Operator is not responsible for. 7.4 You are entitled to provide proof that no or significantly lower costs were incurred in the context of the cancellation or no-show than the costs imposed by the Tour Operator when implementing the flat rates (cf. next sub-section 7.5).

7.5 The flatrate cancellation charges are normally applied per person/per accommodation unit:

7.5.1 [...]*

7.5.2 [...]*

a) [...]*

b) Travel with the Porsche Travel Club more than 30 days before departure 25%, from 30th day before departure 40%,
from 24th day before departure 50%,
from 17th day before departure 60%,
from 10th day before departure 80%,
from 3rd day before departure until day holiday starts or no-show 90% of the price of the holiday.

c) [...]*

d) Flight-only on scheduled flights per person more than 30 days before departure €50, from 30th day before departure €150. This provision only applies to cancellation of flight-only routes on scheduled flights and not to cancellation of combined journeys. Sub-sections [7.5.1], 7.5.2 item b) apply in this case.

e) The cancellation provisions of the respective provider apply only in the case of additional services, e.g. green fees, admission tickets for musicals, where the Tour Operator acts as agent (cf. sub-section 1.5). You are advised accordingly when making the booking.

f) [...]*

Differing cancellation provisions apply to the following holidays:

Ice-Force/Ice-Force S

Camp4/Ice-Force/Ice-Force S:

Cancellation before 01.11.12:

75% of the holiday price.

From 02.11.12:

Camp4S:

Cancellation before 01.01.13:

75% of the holiday price.

From 02.01.13:

90% of the holiday price.

* Not applicable to the Porsche Travel Club.

Vouchers

If a voucher for a given value that has already been issued to you is returned, a handling fee of 5% of the value of the voucher will be charged. You are entitled to furnish proof should the costs be lower or indeed non-existent.

7.6 Your right to provide a substitute (see sub-section 8.2 below) remains unaffected by the above provisions.

7.7 Redeeming vouchers

The voucher can be redeemed only for services available in the Porsche Travel Club catalogues. The voucher cannot be redeemed for extra services, such as flights, or for paying any rebooking or cancellation costs. The voucher can be redeemed only when booking through the Porsche Travel Club, airtours – a TUI Deutschland GmbH brand and by submitting or sending in the original voucher. The voucher can be split and used for several bookings. However, the voucher cannot be exchanged for cash and no change can be given. The voucher and its redemption are subject to the law of the Federal Republic of Germany. Vouchers shall be valid for a period of three years from the end of the year in which they are issued.

8. Rebooking, change of person

8.1 Until the 91st day before your holiday starts at your request the Tour Operator will, as far as this is feasible, amend your confirmed booking. A charge of €50 per person will be made. Changes to bookings/amendments are deemed to include, for example, changes to travel dates, destination, place where holiday commences, accommodation or transport; in the case of scheduled flights, as soon as the ticket has been issued, change to departure time. Changes made that fall within the deadlines referred to above in this sub-section (e.g. for flight-based/standard charges from 30th day before departure) as well as amendments that go beyond the period of validity of the brochure description upon which the booking is based (sub-section 3.1) can only be made by cancelling the travel contract under the provisions in sub-section 7.5 and immediately rebooking. This also applies to flight-only travel on scheduled flights in the case of a change of carrier initiated at your request.

8.2 Until the time of departure you the traveller can request that your rights and duties in accordance with the travel contract be assigned to a third person. The Tour Operator must be notified accordingly. The Tour Operator can object to a third person substituting the traveller if the third person does not fulfil the necessary travel requirements or statutory or official regulations or directives prevent his participation. If a third person replaces the booked traveller, the Tour Operator is entitled to charge a flat-rate handling fee of €50 to cover the associated costs. Your right to prove that substantially lower or no costs were incurred remains unaffected. You as the registered person and the person taking your place are jointly liable for the extra costs of the holiday incurred as a result of the inclusion of the replacement person.

9. Travel insurance

9.1 [...]*

9.2 Holidays booked through the Porsche Travel Club include an insurance package covering cancellation and accident insurance.

10. Cancellation and termination by the Tour Operator

10.1 The Tour Operator can terminate the holiday contract without notice if the traveller continues to misbehave despite proper admonishment by the Tour Operator. This also applies if a traveller's conduct grossly violates the terms of the contract to such an extent that immediate termination of the contract is justified. The Tour Operator has the right to retain the price of the holiday. The disruptive traveller shall also bear any extra costs for repatriation. On the other hand, the Tour Operator must make due cost adjustment to take into account the value of any saved expenditures as well as such benefits profited from for components not consumed by the traveller and put to other meaningful use or any refunds received from service providers.

10.2 The Tour Operator can cancel the holiday contract up to 5 weeks (receipt by the traveller) before departure if the minimum number of participants specified in the relevant description of services and in the holiday confirmation is not reached. The Tour Operator will of course inform you as early as possible as soon as it becomes apparent that the minimum number of participants will not be reached. The notice of cancellation will be delivered to the traveller immediately and you will be immediately refunded the price paid for the holiday.

10.3 In the event of the Tour Operator cancelling the travel contract in line with sub-section 10.2, the traveller is entitled to demand his inclusion in another holiday of at least equal value provided the Tour Operator is able to offer such a holiday from his holiday programme to the traveller without burdening the traveller with extra costs. The traveller shall assert this right against the Tour Operator immediately after becoming cognisant of the Tour Operator's notice of cancellation. If the traveller does not exercise his right to participate in a holiday of equal value, he shall be immediately refunded the price paid for the holiday.

11. Extraordinary circumstances – force majeure

11.1 We refer you to article 651j BGB in the case of termination of the travel contract due to force majeure. The wording of this article is as follows: '(1) If the trip is substantially impaired, jeopardised or adversely affected as the result of force majeure not foreseeable when the agreement was entered into, then both the tour Tour Operator as well as the traveller may terminate the agreement simply under these provisions.

(2) If the contract is cancelled in line with item (1) above, the provisions of article 651e section 3 clauses 1 and 2, as well as section 4 clause 1 apply. The extra costs for repatriation are shared equally between the parties. In other cases the traveller bears the costs of repatriation.'

11.2 You will find travel advisories from the German Foreign Office on the internet at www.auswaertiges-amt.de and can listen to them by calling +49 (0)30 5000-2000.

12. Redress/price reduction/termination

12.1 If a travel service or component is not fulfilled in conformity with the contract, the traveller is entitled to demand redress. The Tour Operator may deliver redress by providing equal or higher value replacement performance. The Tour Operator can refuse to provide redress if this would involve unreasonable expenditure.

12.2 After returning from holiday, the traveller is entitled to claim a reduction in the price of the holiday if the holiday services were not provided in conformity with the contract and he did not culpably omit to notify the Tour Operator of the defects immediately (without undue delay).

12.3 In line with statutory provisions if the holiday is seriously impaired as a result of a deficiency and the Tour Operator does not provide redress within a reasonable period, the traveller is entitled to terminate the holiday contract. It is recommended that the traveller in his own interest and in order to document such action put the notice of termination in writing. The same applies if the traveller cannot be reasonably expected for good cause to continue the holiday due to deficiencies acknowledged by the Tour Operator. A reasonable deadline for providing redress does not apply if redress is impossible or the Tour Operator refuses to provide redress or if the immediate termination of the contract is justified in the traveller's interest. If the contract is terminated in this way, the traveller is entitled to be repatriated. In this case he will only owe the Tour Operator for the services and components he consumed under the proviso that these were of interest to him.

13. Liability

13.1 If a deficiency should exist, the traveller is entitled irrespective of reduction in the price of the holiday or termination to claim damages for non-performance unless the deficiency was caused by circumstances beyond the Tour Operator's control. The traveller can also claim damages for wasted holiday time if the holiday was ruined or seriously impaired.

13.2 The Tour Operator's contractual liability for damages other than personal injury is limited to three times the amount of the price of the holiday as far as the damage suffered by the traveller was not caused by the Tour Operator wilfully or through gross negligence. The limitation of the liability to the threefold of the price of the holiday also applies to damage suffered by the traveller other than personal injury for which the Tour Operator's responsibility is solely due to the fault of a service provider.

13.3 Compensation claims based on tort against the Tour Operator for unlawful damages that are not due to wilful acts or acts of gross negligence are limited with respect to damage to property to the threefold of the price of the holiday. These maximum liability amounts apply per traveller per holiday. Possible further-going claims related to baggage in accordance with the Montreal Convention remain unaffected by this limitation.

13.4 The Tour Operator is not liable for interruptions to services, personal injury and damage to property related to services for which the Tour Operator acted merely as agent and only mediated services rendered by an outside party (e. g. excursions, sports events, visits to the theatre, exhibitions, transportation services from and to the advertised places of departure and destinations), if these services were explicitly designated in the holiday description and the booking confirmation as services rendered by an outside party stating the arranging contractual partner so clearly that they are discernible to the customer as not being part of the holiday performance of the Tour Operator. However, the Tour Operator is liable

13.4.1 for services which represent the transportation of travellers from the advertised place of departure of the holiday to the advertised destination, interim transport during the journey and accommodation during the journey, as well as 13.4.2 if and as far as the damage suffered by a customer was causally due to the Tour Operator breaching his obligations to inform, advise and organise.

13.5 You are fully responsible if you partake in sports or other holiday activities. You should check sports facilities, equipment and vehicles before using them. The Tour Operator is only liable for accidents that occur in the course of sports and other holiday activities if he must answer for any fault. The Tour Operator recommends that travellers take out accident insurance.

13.6 Transportation is provided on the basis of the terms and conditions of transport of the respective transport provider. These can be furnished if so requested. The terms and conditions of the German railway company Deutsche Bahn (DB) on the reverse of the train documents do not apply. The rights and duties of the Tour Operator and the customer in accordance with German travel legislation and these comprehensive terms and conditions of travel are not limited by the terms and conditions of the respective transport provider. In line with the description of services (sub-section 3.1) your travel documents may contain Rail & Fly tickets from DB and an additional supplement called 'Fahren & Fliegen' from the Association of German Transport Companies. All travellers are responsible for arriving in good time at the departure airport, unless their late arrival is the result of an intentional or grossly negligent action on the part of the Tour Operator.

13.7 Duty to cooperate, complaints
13.7.1 In the event of disruptions to services all travellers are bound in the framework of statutory provisions to cooperate in avoiding or minimising possible damage.

13.7.2 Should you contrary to expectation have grounds to make a complaint, the local travel representative or service provider must be informed immediately in line with sub-section 3.7.1 and request redress. Complaining to the service provider is often helpful, but does not relieve you of your duty to complain to the Tour Operator. You will find the applicable telephone and fax numbers as well as e-mail addresses in your travel documents or in the description of services (sub-section 3.1). In the event of damage to or delays in the delivery of baggage or goods after a flight, the Tour Operator recommends that you immediately notify the respective air carrier at the airport by completing and submitting the Passenger Irregularity Report (PIR). After discovering damage later on, in the case of baggage this should be done by completing and submitting the PIR at the latest within 7 days, and in the case of goods within 14 days after taking receipt, and in the case of delayed baggage at the latest 21 days after the baggage or goods were handed over to the traveller. As a rule airlines refuse to pay compensation if the PIR was not completed and submitted. In addition, the loss of, damage to or faulty transport of baggage should be notified to the travel representative. If a traveller culpably omits to report a defect, subsequent claims are null and void.

13.7.3 Travel representatives are not authorised to admit entitlement to any claims.

14. Exclusion of claims, limitation and assignment

14.1 All claims on account of the holiday not being provided in accordance with the contract (articles 651c–f of the BGB) must be lodged with the Tour Operator within one month (the relevant addresses can be found in section 17 below). You are recommended to do so in writing. The traveller can make a claim after the expiry of one month only if he was prevented from doing so earlier by circumstances beyond his control. The day the holiday ended is not counted in calculating the month's deadline. See 13.7.2 for claims relating to damage to baggage, delays in the return of baggage or the loss of baggage.

14.2 Claims asserted by the traveller in accordance with articles 651c–f BGB for losses resulting from fatal injury, bodily harm or damage to health, if they arise from a deliberate or grossly negligent breach of duty on the part of the Tour Operator or one of this legal representatives or vicarious agents, lapse according to the statute of limitations after 2 years. This also applies to claims for compensation for other damages that arise from a deliberate or grossly negligent breach of duty on the part of the Tour Operator or one of his legal representatives or vicarious agents.

14.3 All other claims asserted by the traveller in accordance with articles 651c–f BGB lapse after 1 year according to the statute of limitations.

14.4 The determining date for the lapse of claims according to sub-sections 14.2 and 14.3 above is based on the day that follows the day the holiday ends as per contract.

14.5 Claims arising from unlawful acts lapse after 3 years.

14.6 If negotiations between the traveller and the Tour Operator regarding the claim or the circumstances surrounding the claim remain unresolved, then the period after which the claim lapses will be postponed until the traveller or the Tour Operator refuses to continue with the negotiations. The period after which the claim lapses will take effect at the earliest 3 months after the end of the postponement.

14.7 Your travel agent acts only as an agent in making the travel contract. The agent is not authorised to accept any warranty or compensation claims made by the traveller after the end of the holiday.
14.8 The assignment of claims against the Tour Operator to other parties is excluded. This does not apply to cotravelling family members.

15. Passport, visa, customs, foreign currency and health requirements

15.1 The Tour Operator will notify nationals of the country in which the holiday is offered of any requirements concerning passport, visa and health regulations as well as any changes to such regulations before the start of the holiday. Nationals from other countries should contact the respective embassy/consulate of the destination country. Basic information on formalities is given in the holiday travel descriptions in the brochures (sub-section 3.1) and in the holiday documents. Please take note of this information and contact your travel agent should you require more detailed information.

15.2 If the Tour Operator was entrusted with the visa application, the Tour Operator himself is not responsible for ensuring that the visas required are issued by the relevant consular authorities in good time unless the Tour Operator was ultimately responsible for the delay. You should allow approximately 8 weeks for the processing of visa applications, etc., by the relevant authorities.

15.3 The traveller alone is responsible for complying with all regulations necessary to participate in the holiday. Any negative consequences, especially the payment of holiday cancellation charges arising from non-compliance with these regulations, are the traveller's responsibility, with the exception of consequences due to culpably incorrect or deficient information provided by the Tour Operator.

15.4 Consult the brochure and your travel agent to find out whether you need a passport or whether an ID card is sufficient. Please ensure the validity of your travel documents. In some countries children can be registered in the passport of an accompanying parent, in others children need their own passport.

15.5 Some countries apply very strict customs and currency regulations. Make sure that you are well informed and abide by the regulations.

15.6 Some countries demand that certain vaccination certificates may not be less than 8 days old and not more than 3 years old (smallpox) or 10 years (yellow fever). Proof of such vaccinations is required by the German authorities after returning from certain countries (e. g. from Africa, the Middle East). Please refer to the brochure and consult the Porsche Travel Club.

16. Data protection

Personal data that you give to us will be processed electronically and used as necessary in order to execute the contract. The data will be stored in a central database maintained by Dr. Ing. h.c. F. Porsche AG. airtours – a TUI Deutschland GmbH brand processes and uses your data solely in conjunction with the Porsche Travel Club.

17. Place of jurisdiction/ general information

17.1 The recipient of the travel documents is obliged to check the documents received immediately to ensure they are correct (name, travel data, destination, etc.) and to notify the issuer immediately in the event of an error.

17.2 Travellers are obliged to bring a valid driving licence and a valid passport/identity card to events. The following driving licences are accepted:

- EU driving licences
- National driving licences in German or English
- National driving licences from non-EU countries not issued in English are only acceptable if accompanied by a certified German or English translation
- International driving licences only when presented together with a national driving licence

17.3 The invalidity of individual provisions of the holiday contract does not affect the validity of the overall holiday contract. The same applies to these terms and conditions of travel.

17.4 The contractual relationship between the customer and the Tour Operator is based exclusively on German law. This also applies to the entire legal relationship.

17.5 Insofar as legal action is taken by the customer against the Tour Operator abroad and German law is not applied to the liability of the Tour Operator then as regards the legal consequences, in particular regarding the type, extent and amount of the claims of the customer, exclusively German law shall apply.

17.6 The customer can take legal action against the Tour Operator only at the place where the Tour Operator is based.

17.7 Any legal action taken by the Tour Operator against the customer must be made at the place where the customer is resident. The venue for any legal action against a customer or contract partner to a travel contract who is a trader or merchant, a natural or legal person, whether public or private, who is domiciled or has his usual place of residence abroad or his place of domicile or usual residence is unknown at the time the action is taken, is agreed as the place where the Tour Operator is based.

17.8 The aforementioned conditions about the choice of law and the legal venue do not apply:

- a) if and inasmuch as something else exists in favour of the customer based on contractually mandatory regulations of international agreements and which are applicable to the travel contract between the customer and the Tour Operator, or
- b) if and inasmuch as mandatory regulations in the member state of the European Union to which the customer belongs are applicable to this travel contract and are more favourable to the customer than the regulations in these terms and conditions or the corresponding German provisions.

Two strong partners – one common goal: your utmost satisfaction.

On a tour in a Porsche you would expect the highest standards of quality even when you step out of the car. Striving to be the 'best in class' covers a variety of aspects – a rare combination of talent, time and taste. The luxury travel sector is all about charm, individuality and attention to detail, as well as being cosmopolitan, attentive and discreet. It combines privilege with personality, and always bears the hallmark of experts and enthusiasts. A prestigious interior alone does not make a luxury hotel, just as attractive bodywork does not make the perfect sports car.

Porsche and airtours share the same high standards. The luxury travel offered to you by airtours must live up to these. That is why airtours has worked globally for 40 years to set up a network of partners that brings together excellent brands, hotels and airlines. Porsche Driving Experience guests share our uncompromising understanding of luxury and airtours understand that. This is the main reason that the Porsche Driving Experience has selected airtours as its partner for planning and organising our outstanding Porsche driving holidays. Your individual needs are as important to airtours as they are to Porsche. Through the partnership between Porsche and airtours, we are able to offer additional tourism services (such as booking flights, extending your stay, etc.), through the Porsche Driving Experience with the airtours guarantee of quality. Which means you will have all of your travel requirements dealt with by a single source – one tour operator.
